

The West Suffolk Operational Hub Planning Application has been announced ...

Please everyone, go onto the St Edmundsbury Planning Portal when it goes live – probably on Friday ... and submit your views ...

Announcement of WSOH Planning Application

In a statement, the Villages Community Forum, which represents residents of the Fornhams and Great Barton said, “WSOH has moved on to a new phase – and so we now have to focus on the planning process. We expect this to be made live on the Borough Planning Portal in the next few days. We have been introduced to the WSOH planning application ... it involves over twenty documents – and the summary introduction alone is over three hundred pages.

There will be a short 21-day consultation period once the planning application goes live and it is absolutely crucial that people engage and log on to that through the SEBC Planning Portal and express their views – just as they did during the second round of public consultation last year.
